Ronald Knox: A Bibliography

The bibliography below would not have been possible without the aid of an unpublished bibliography prepared by Patricia Cowan as a librarianship thesis at the University of London in 1964. Her amazingly thorough work provided the basis for this bibliography, which I have re-organized and updated with both newly discovered material and publications that appeared after 1964. I have also removed those items that were printed in small runs and exist only in private collections; anyone curious about these omissions may contact me for more information. Doubtless there are articles or pamphlets that we have both missed: if anyone has any information about further materials, or discovers an error in any of the information that follows, please contact me at jgc2110@columbia.edu. I would like to take this opportunity to thank Fr. Milton Walsh for his kind assistance and expertise, and the American Theological Librarianship Association for providing the resources necessary to complete this project.
